

Full-Time Physician Position Opening in Functional Medicine Office:

Amy Myers, MD is seeking a unique individual to fulfill their need for a full-time physician. We are a small, private, upscale Functional Medicine office located in Austin, Texas. Our approach to health and healing is to get to the source of chronic health conditions as opposed to masking symptoms with medication. Our practice is dedicated to providing high-quality customer service and individualized care to our patient population.

Responsibilities will include, but are not limited to:

- Seeing patients 4 clinical days per week (typically Monday-Thursday for a total of 46 weeks per year, with an average patient load of 6 patients per day)
- Reviewing intake forms
- Ordering labs
- Establishing patient plans
- Reviewing lab results
- Answering RN/patient questions
- Renewing prescriptions with RN between appointments
- Attending a 2-hour staff meeting every other week and our quarterly team retreats

Preferred skills/attributes to possess for success:

- Passion and commitment to Functional Medicine, not just for your patients but as a way of life for yourself. You must practice what you preach!
- Completion of IFM's Applying Functional Medicine in Clinical Practice (AFMCP) course (at least the GI Advanced Practice Module)
- Completion of all IFM Advanced Practice Modules (or at least working toward completing all modules for IFM certification)
- Previous experience using Functional Medicine in a clinical setting

At the end of the day, personality and fit are the MOST important. We have a small team, we all get along very well, and it's a wonderful working environment. I can help train just about anyone who has the drive and passion.

Required skills/experience:

- Medical degree from an accredited school
- Residency training in emergency medicine, family medicine, internal medicine, or OB/GYN
- License to practice in the state of Texas (or intent to obtain license before hire date)
- Current DEA and NPI Certificate of Registration

Benefits:

- Competitive salary

- Up to 6 weeks of paid time off: made up of vacation, personal days, sick days, paid holidays, and CME
- 401K
- Malpractice and tail paid
- Health insurance stipend monthly

Application Requirements:

- Minimum of a 3-year commitment to our practice

Contact Name: Beverly Chilton

Contact Email: Careers@AmyMyersMD.com

Contact Phone: 512-383-5343

Additional Contact Information:

Please send a cover letter stating why you desire this position, resume with Functional Medicine experience and training listed, salary requirements, and your availability for start date.

Please take time to thoroughly review our website at www.AmyMyersMD.com prior to your application.